GERMANS LAUNCH A BIG DRIVE

Railroads on Pan-Flang Line Increase in Fury as Fresh Troops Force Counter Attack Day Positions.

Petrograd, Sept. 28.—Although the official bulletin recently had work very little to say regarding the work of the Russian armies, (Mits) day's official report merely said no events of importance had occurred. Russian staff officers declare that the battles as great as those of June, when Gen. Brusiloff broke the Austro-Hungarian line, already are under way. The present fighting, however, although it has spread from the front centers west of Lutsk, Volhynia; east of Halicz, on the Rutenia; and in the Carpathians, all along the whole front from the Pripiat marshes to the Roumanian lines, is different from that of June, in that the Germans are counter-attacking with steadily increasing numbers and fury.

Russian officers regard the steady arrival of German reinforcements and the increasing volume and fury of their artillery fire, as indications of an intention of Field Marshal von Hindenburg to make a great effort, and the hope of thrusting Gen. Brusiloff back virtually to his old lines and re-taking the last territory in Volhynia and Galicia, as well as Bukovina.

In the face of this, although nothing official has been announced, it is known the Russian armies already are in motion on the Volhynian front, and it is believed, with the intention of making a great effort to pierce the new Austro-German front, driving its soldiers even further to the westward before further sets in.

SECURES U. S. COTTON GRADER

In co-operation with the United States department of agriculture, the Orangeburg Cotton Marketing Association has completed arrangements for the investigations inaugurated by Congressman Lever, the plan for which was presented by Mr. Lever at a meeting held here last Thursday.

Mr. Fred Taylor, cotton technologist of the department of agriculture, arrived in the city on Monday morning and immediately got in touch with Mr. R. E. Wannamaker and Mr. Jerome R. McMillan, president and secretary, respectively, of the local cotton marketing association, and other citizens interested in this movement, and proceeded to take plans for conducting the actual work of the investigation.

A cotton grader has been secured from the United States department of agriculture, the entrance facing on the public square, at which place all samples of cotton will be assembled by the grader and the price received for his cotton wherever a sale is finally made. Mr. Botto will furnish a tag for every bale of cotton graded, which must be in order that the bale may be properly identified. A record will be kept for each bale, showing producers name, the grade and the price received for the bale.

Fog the present Mr. Botto will be in Orangeburg on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, having been assigned to St. Matthews on Mondays. The grader will be open every day for the purpose of receiving samples. Further information may be had by application at the grading room.

This demonstration is being conducted by the department of agriculture for the purpose of obtaining information relative to the handling and marketing of cotton in this territory, this being one of a small number of similar experiments now in progress in various parts of the country.

In connection with this aid for the farmer, Mr. R. E. Wannamaker, president of the Orangeburg Cotton Marketing Association, and Mr. Jerome R. McMillan, president of the local cotton marketing association, are expected to arrive in the city on Monday morning.

It is thought that this evening's cabinet meeting will decide to order the departure of the present minister, M. Roufos, minister of the interior, and M. Vokotopoulis, minister of justice.

New York, Sept. 28.—Maj. Arthur S. Humphreys and Lieut. Commissioner Howe was shown a dispatch from Washington saying that it was stating on the case of any alien who served in the forces of one of the belligerent countries seeking admission to this country to ascertain whether they have been discharged from the army of the belligerent country and whether they are destined to some point in this country or are passing through to some other point.

Charges against Lutherbach were made with the number of soldiers there in an effort to disarm him. It was unsuccessful.

THREE GOOD COVER CROPS

We are repeatedly being inquired as to which is the best winter legume crimson clover, bur clover, or alfalfa. Our answer is that no particular one is best, but that all three have or may have a definite place in any system of farming designed to best serve the average farmer in the Cotton Belt. Thus while one of these three may be best in its particular place, we hold that experience has fairly well defined the respective places of each of these great crops, and that each, in its place, is without a superior.

Crimson clover belongs in crop rotations, to be plowed under in spring as a fertilizer for a summer-growing crop to follow. Ripening as it does in April or early May, at a time when the weather is cool and usually moist, crimson clover is not a good hay crop, and we do not recommend it as such. Quite true, fairly good crops of it are sometimes made from it, but we are certain that there are far better hay crops. On the other hand, as a catcher of nitrogen and humus during the winter and early spring, to be plowed under, crimson clover is the greatest crop we have, and affords to us by far the cheapest and surest means of doubling our present crop of corn and clover.

Bur clover is at its best in permanent pastures along with Bermuda grass, white clover and lespedeza. While bur clover seed in the bar at $1 per bushel appears to be cheap when compared with crimson clover at $8 per bushel for cleaned seed, we must remember that in a bushel of the former there are only about two and one-half pounds of clean seed, and that twenty-five bushels of seed in the hull are required to make a bushel of clean seed. For this reason, it is comparatively expensive to seed an acre of bur clover, and moreover, it is unquestionably true that difficulty in getting stands of bur clover has been rather frequent. On the other hand, bur clover furnishes excellent feed when once started, and fits in admirably well with alfalfa to make a permanent pasture combination. As every farmer needs a good permanent pasture, we would urge that at least enough bur clover seed be purchased and planted and this fall, seed saved next spring, and the clover finally established over the place.

Which is the great early hay crop. Crimson clover is better as a crop to plow under, but clover is superior on permanent pastures, and as a green manure crop, but for the average farmer, bur clover is the best. It is the best crop we know of. Though generally maturing later than crimson clover and bur clover, it has the advantage of being very hardy and can be safely planted as late as November. It can be followed by peas or soy beans for hay or by a winter crop of corn.

We are aware that some farmers are using bur clover and vetch as green manure crops, but for the average farmer, bur clover is the best. It is the best crop we know of. Though generally maturing later than crimson clover and bur clover, it has the advantage of being very hardy and can be safely planted as late as November. It can be followed by peas or soy beans for hay or by a winter crop of corn.

WAREHOUSE HEAD AGREES TO STAY

Executive Board of Warehouse Association Implores Him to Remain in Office.

Columbia, Sept. 27.—John L. McLaughlin, State warehouse commissioner, told the executive committee of the Warehouse Association, when requested to come to their session last night after they had taken action upon his contemplated resignation, that he would comply with their request and remain in his position which he holds. The committee met in Columbia last evening on the call of the secretary of the association. J. A. Kull, Mr. Aull is private secretary to Mr. McLaughlin.

The committee adopted the following resolution:

"That for our candid judgment that the real producers of cotton, the patrons of the warehouse system, and the friends of scientific marketing commend the administration of this office by Mr. McLaughlin, and that they desire that he continue to discharge the duties of warehouse commissioner and devote himself to the improvement of the warehouse system."

J. Arthur Banks of St. Matthews, president, was not able to attend and was represented by G. A. Guigard of Columbia. He wrote a letter, however, to Mr. McLaughlin, stating that "to lose Mr. McLaughlin to this cause at this time on account of mere political considerations would be a great loss to the cause, and therefore he earnestly trusted that the committee might wish all its power to prevail on him to reconsider his contemplated resignation."

Griffith to Quit SUPERINTENDENCY

Columbia, S. C. Sept. 27.—D. O. Griffith, for 12 years superintendent of the State penitentiary, said yesterday that he would not seek reelection at the end of his present term. His successor will be elected at the annual assembly convening in January.

Three candidates are already in the field for the position, which pays $1,000 a year. The candidates are J. K. Sanders, member of the house from Sumter and for several terms a director of the prison; P. E. Lessem, a former member of the legislature; and J. S. Sanders, member of the house from Lexington.

Record Griffith has made an excellent record as superintendent of the prison, having been elected in 1909 to succeed W. H. Lanning. He is a former member of the legislature, and has been a member of the legislature for several years, and J. S. Sanders, member of the house from Lexington.

FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 29

Remember, next Monday is your last chance to secure a registration certificate before the general election.

Have you signed the petition for the bond issue to be used in fixing Main street? Possibly you think Main street does not need fixing. Well, take a look at it.

Charles Evans Hughes reminds us of a base-ball player who would stand up to the plate. He never strikes—hoping to reach first on balls.

We notice something about the Blotter holding the party but we cannot find any mention of what the head-knocker has to say. Who was that fellow that "botted" several years ago?

Flour has gone up. Meat has gone up. Clothes have gone up. Well, where there's a will there's a way, thank goodness grace is plentiful.

Do you reckon that fellow that wrote Rock of Ages ever passed over "The Hill"?

How about Chester's cotton market? We are now among the top-notchers and still going.

The success or failure of the Chester County Fair depends upon Chester County people. All together now for the big fair.

LOOKS GOOD TO US

From our exchanges we note that a number of towns throughout the State report their schools crowded to capacity. In fact, some have given notice that no additional pupils can be taken care of.

We regret that any child is denied admission to a school. But the fact that the schools throughout the State are crowded to their capacity will no doubt awaken the people of South Carolina and when once aroused to the need of additional educational facilities something will be done.

McLendon.

In Greenville there is a tourist preacher named McLendon, who goes about with a tent.

I heard him the other night. He is much like Billy Sunday, though he lacks Sunday's incisive manner of speech and his voice is husky. Sunday's is biting and clear.

McLendon's method of preaching the gospel is the ideal method. He has no matter except that One, and he is free to preach the truth without fear of losing his job or being waited on by a delegation of irate deacons.

He is somewhat theatrical, and very conversative folk would like his preaching better if he wouldn't pace and down the platform, climb chairs, and things of that sort.

And I suppose the sinners would like him better if he didn't talk quite so rough about them.

But he draws the crowds. There were perhaps three thousand there the night I heard him. Some of them attended, as I attended, out of curiosity, but those that came to seek remained to pray.

It is easy to listen to McLendon. He has a message. He talks rapidly and well, and seldom hesitates for a word.

It will pay you to ride to Greenville some afternoon or night to hear him. If he travels on you get him to be held on mine. You will like him the better for it. Fountain Inn, Tri-buna.

Civic Improvement Association.
The Association will meet at 7 o'clock on Monday afternoon, Oct. 2nd, in the court house. All members, and should-be members, are urged to be present after routing business. Mr. Lloyd, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has kindly agreed to give a talk concerning the Fair, and other things in which we are mutually interested.

We take this opportunity to make a earnest call upon the ladies of the city to show their interest in civic betterment by becoming members of the Association. Larger numbers would add much to its efficiency. Chairman of Publicity Committee.

FAIR WEATHER FOR FAIR WEEK

Unless Jupiter and Venus, who play a very large part in the weather, decide to misbehave this year, there will be fair weather for Fair week. At least this is the "dope" handed out by the weather sharks. The weather sharks all say that there will be a recurrence of hot spells during next month and while precipitation may be looked for before the week following, which is Fair week here will show a high temperature but that there will be no precipitation. Market elemental disturbances are looked for after October 24.

It is hoped that the weather sharks will be able to make Jupiter and Venus perform in the usual manner this year, for fair weather is all that is needed now to make the County Fair a great success. The interest in all parts of the county as well as in the surrounding counties has been growing daily and with the help of the weather works there is no doubt but that a record break will be made by the Fair.

One of the features of the County Fair will be the exhibits of the Merchants and Manufacturers of the State. Arrangements are being made for these exhibits by a special committee from the Bureau of Mercantile Affairs of the Chamber of Commerce, consisting of Messrs. W. D. Robinson, Robert Frazier and Lex Klutz. These exhibits will occupy spaces in the large exhibition tent to be erected several days before the opening of the Fair, and which is the largest tent ever erected in this vicinity for exhibition purposes.

While only a partial canvass of the merchants and manufacturers of the city has been made over thirty of the merchants and manufacturers have already signified their desire to prepare a booth in the exhibition tent. This is a new feature for the fairs of this section and the merchant or manufacturer who prepares his best booth will receive a larger floor space valued at fifty dollars.

Designations of space in the exhibition tent will be made next week but preparations are already being made for the exhibits by merchants and manufacturers.

Among the manufacturing exhibits will be that of the Manetta Mills, Landis, S. C.

DREAMLAND TODAY.

One of the most unusual of the many interesting incidents in the Joseph L. Lasky production of "The Victory of Conscience" which will be seen at the Dreamland today with Lou Tellegen, the famous romantic actress, is the battle scene between the Germans upon a French convent, defended by a handful of soldiers recruited from the gutters of Paris and commanded by a French priest.

This scene is an exact replica of one of the incidents of the first days of the great war and was told to us in the most thrilling detail by the few survivors of the conflict. In presenting this incident for the screen, the Lasky Company felt that it could contribute its share to preserving history, as well as establish a pictorial monument to the valiant sons of the underworld by presenting it in its absolute detail. In order to do this, the services of Francis Le Jacquemont, a French officer consoling in the United States, were secured, and it was under his supervision that the battle scenes were filmed. The convent and fortifications were erected on the Lasky ranch, and field artillery was secured. The violence of the attack is shown in the most minute detail, first the explosion of the heavy shells—then the searching rain of shrapnel and then the spray of machine gun bullets, followed by the rifle fire and charge.

"The brave defenders of the convent, although only performing the bits for the motion picture camera and the multitudes that see Lasky pictures on the Paramount Program, entered into the spirit of the affair and stood their ground until the last assault.

The timing of the firing was so arranged that during the taking of the scene, no one was severely injured. The exploding shell which wrecked the convent gate was aimed and fired by Messrs. Jacquemont himself as was the shot which killed the soldier—lover, another shell was exploded, which with the setting sun in the background, created a wonderful photographic effect.

DO NOT THINK BLEASE

WILL BOLT THE PARTY.
Newberry, S. C., Sept. 27.—Well informed politicians in South Carolina do not believe that Cole L. Blease will bolt the Democratic party. There has been talk of a bolt in the air since the second primary. Mr. Blease has never conceded his defeat or filed a protest. A Blease convention has been called to meet in Columbia October 18. There were some who were inclined to believe that the convention will result in a new party in South Carolina. The call for the convention has been issued by James Blease leader in Lee County. The outcome of the convention is being watched with interest.

canal employees, and the ship on which he sailed. Flying the Canal Zone Governor's flag, was not a bad idea.

Never before has he been sitting through the canal on a ship.

WAS CLEOPATRA UGLY.

Of luck-taking the illustrations of the past are not. Now the number of the country who are in the convention at Baltimore are seeking to impugn the beauty of Cleopatra, and they point to her portrait on her coin. They say that the Queen who captured Caesar and Antony had big ears, small eyes and a scrawny neck. Would the fair autocrat of Egypt have allowed her own coinage to make her a laughing stock?

Clearly the numismatists are not 100 per cent. chivalric. But as a piece of evidence, there is a silver coin minted at Antioch and showing the bust of Cleopatra on the obverse and that of Mark Antony on the reverse, which gives the Queen a neck by no means scrawny, full eyes and a chin suggestive of that of our own Goddess of Liberty, though lacking the graceful curve. The ears are as variable as those of a modern New Yorker, and only the nose invites criticism. It is quite long enough to disprove Pascal's saying that if it were shorter it would have changed the whole face of the world. The Antioch coin calls the Queen "a later goddess." Was the coin a counterfeit, and did the official coinage more truly depict her, in the Cromwell way, "with all the warts on." It is more satisfactory to put the blame on rule workmanship. If Cleopatra's chin did not "begg all coins," they must have had some potency to make the slaves they did. Why, will be left to us in the hands of the great and benevolent if modern history if modern detractors of the famous dead are allowed to have their way.—New York World.

NO PASSENGER TRAFFIC BETWEEN PORT LAWN AND LACASTER

The following information was recently given out by the management of the Lancaster & Chester Railway. We understand the L. & C. will at an early date begin the construction of a bridge across the Catawba river. "Effective Monday morning, Sept. 18, 1916, all railway traffic service over the Lancaster & Chester Railway tracks Lancaster to Port Lawn will be suspended until further notice. This on account of the Catawba river conditions occasioned by the waters of the recent flood. Freight will be detoured over the Southern track via Catawba Junction and from that point to Port Lawn over the Seaboard line, thence over the L. & C. to Chester and integrity of the points. Under this arrangement, however, the L. & C. will not handle passenger traffic between Lancaster and Port Lawn on its train. Passengers will be handled only between Port Lawn and Chester in the usual way.

THOMASVILLE MOTORISTS GO OVER EMBANKMENT

I. H. Mason Removed to High Point Hospital—John Kennedy Hurt and Buggy Wrecked.

Thomasville, Sept. 25.—While driving on the National highway between Thomasville and Lexington, J. H. Mason of Thomasville had a serious accident just below Rich Fork church when his machine ran into John Kennedy's buggy, causing Mr. Mason's machine to turn over an embankment.

Mr. Mason and a party composed of his family and some friends from Wallburg were out for a drive in Mr. Mason's new car. One of the young ladies was driving the machine and hit the buggy, causing the horse to run away. Mr. Kennedy was thrown out of the buggy, and while he was not seriously hurt he was badly bruised and shaken up. The buggy was a total wreck.

When the automobile hit the buggy it caused the young woman who was driving to become frightened and she was so excited she let go the steering wheel, causing the car to go over the embankment. At the moment the car was thrown over on its side and it is remarkable that all of them were not killed. The only thing that saved them was the fact that they were not running over ten miles an hour.

The only member of the party seriously hurt was Mrs. A. J. Finck of Thomasville, who was returning from Lexington, reached the scene about ten minutes after the accident. She brought the party on to Thomasville. The doctors attending Mr. Mason thought it best to send him to the hospital and he was carried over to the High Point hospital last night.

DRUGGISTS ON TRIAL AS WOMAN'S SLAYER

Petersburg, Va., Sept. 27.—J. T. Noel, a druggist, was placed on trial here today on an indictment charging him with the murder of Mrs. Lottie Robinson at her home here last May. Counsel for the defense announced that Noel will testify in his own behalf.

Noel's wife, who recently was released from the Eastern State Hospital, is said to be at the home of her parents in Maryland, with her two children. Mrs. Robinson's daughter, Bertha Bates, eight years old, was in court and testified. Mrs. Robinson's husband was not present.

several automobiles and a large stock of corn, and 110 bales of hay which had been put in the barn Tuesday afternoon. Two miles in the barn were saved. Mr. White carried some insurance but nothing like enough to cover his loss. Adjoining buildings were saved by hard work on the part of those who went to the fire.

guests found their places at the ap-

with vases and bowls of cut-flowers in all the autumn shades. When the

WHO is the "Shielding Shadow"?

Early Frost Predicted.

Killing frost for the section of the State along the 34th parallel will occur this year with October 18 as the center date, predicts W. P. Bousnel, the Dutch weather prophet. Severe frost at this date, he says, will be the earliest in 12 years. Killing frost 12 years ago occurred October 11, 1904, as the earliest date for that year, and all other years since that time. Indications during the period of low temperatures also make slight frost probable about October 7, he thinks.

Ollie Marie, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Melton of Chester, died this morning at six o'clock. The funeral services will be held tomorrow at Cavalry Baptist church.

WHO is the "Shielding Shadow"?

PHYSICIAN IS INJURED

BY INMATE OF ASYLUM.
Norfolk News, Va., Sept. 15.—Dr.
G. G. Hanks, physician at the Eastern State Hospital for Insane, at Williamsburg, is in a critical condition at a Richmond hospital, today, as the result of a murderous attack made on him yesterday by a patient in the Williamsburg institution, who struck the physician on the head with a nine pound window weight.

Doctor Hanks was examining patients when without warning, "the madman" came rushing in and described a vicious attack on the doctor, who was severely injured. Richmond where an operation was performed last night and today's advice held out small hope of his recovery.

ARMENIA NEWS

The county boosters of the county fair met at Armenia Thursday morning and a number of helpful talks were given. Indeed, Armenia will try to do her part in this fair. At least there will be quite a number to attend all four days.

Mr. P. O. Atkinson is spending a few days in York with friends and relatives.

Mr. Roy W. Wilke and Miss Nannie Lou Wilke and Hattie Yarborough were teachers from the Armenia community who attended the teacher's meeting in Chester, last week.

Mrs. J. H. Yarborough and Little son, William Glenn, spent Wednesday
at Fort Lawn.

Mrs. J. J. Dadds of Chester spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Robert Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Joe Hudson spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Ambrose Grant.

Messrs. J. Henry Yarborough and Lawrence Atkinson left Tuesday for Clemson College.

Mr. Zed Roberts spent Sunday with friends in Charlotte.

Mr. Stewart Brakfield and Miss Etta Brakfield spent last week-end in Sharon with their brother, Mr. Lee Brakfield.

Misses Jo and Katie Yarborough spent Sunday with Miss Camilla Ester of Baton Rouge.

Mr. and Mrs. Ainsley Grant spent Sunday at the home of Mr. William H. Brakfield.

Miss J. Yarborough gave a lesson in book binding to the girls of the Armenia community on Monday afternoon. Excellent work was obtained, and an excellent hour was spent.

A meeting of the Armenia Literary Society was held on last Friday and an interesting program was carried out. A striking feature of the program was a debate Resolved, that fire is more important than water.
Leon Presley argued for the affirmative, and Donnell Brakfield for the negative. Both papers showed careful thought and study, but the judges decided in favor of the negative.

On last Thursday evening the farmers of the community held a meeting at Armenia to further plans for the community fair. We are planning to make this fair the best in the county and we hope every one will do their best for the furthering of the plans.

The following committees were arranged: Executive Committee—Walter Simpson, Chairman, Smith Hudson,
J. B. Atkin, Sr., Mrs. J. Foster
Carter, Mrs. E. L. Presley.

Field Crops—George Brakfield,
Supt., J. Foster Carter, Asst. Supt.,
W. J. Hudson, W. C. Harden.

Presley, Asst. Supt., Graham Grant,
Adam Presley, Arthur Atkinson.

tis Bailey, Asst. Supt., Helen Hudson, Athletics—C. W. Atkinson, Supt.,
J. B. Atkinson, Jr., Gary Simpson,
Program & Entertainment—Rev.
J. H. Yarborough, Chairman, R. C.
Bailey, Miss Jo Yarborough, Mr. R.
W. Wilkes and Mrs. A. Neely Grant.

Mr. J. B. Atkinson, Jr. Mrs. Willie
Grant.

Fancy Work—Miss Katie Yarborough, Miss Nannie Lou Wilkes, Mrs.
Ainsley Grant, Miss Ploy Grant, Mrs.
William Harden.

Canned Goods. Mrs. Pierce Grant,
Mrs. Abe Brown, Mrs. George Brakfield.

Curios.—Mrs. W. R. Lee, Mrs.
Arthur Bailey.

Hood, Mr. Marion Earwood, Mr. Sam
Hudson.

WHO is the "Shielding Shadow"?
Editor Archibald Johnson Moralizes
On the Automobile.

The writer is not opposed to automobiles in fact the only reason he isn't sailing over the roads in a Ford is that his creditors consume all his surplus cash.—But the abuse of the automobile is a evil that threatens to do us great injury in many ways.
A man tells us the other day about an enthusiastic church worker who bought a machine. Gradually his interest in the Sunday school and church waned, until finally he quit altogether, and sent his pastor word to drop his name from the church roll; that he had found a new source of pleasure, and meant to pursue it and let the church go. The natural thing followed. He began to drink beer and all other things that go along with it and is on the way to the devil at thirty miles an hour. It is true that this man never had enough religion to hurt him and less character than religion, but while this is an extreme case, it illustrates the effect of joy riding on Sunday on any body who indulges.
We have seen church members more than once deliberately load their family in the automobile and start out at ten o'clock on Sunday morning for a spin through the country.
No more sermons for them! No more church schools. They have found a new avenue of pleasure which they propose to travel. The faithful will attend church and observe the Lord's day. A few of the loyal and strong will maintain their integrity, but what about the weak and the shallow, and what about their children?
There is no law to stop these joy riders. There is nothing to be done except to appeal to the sober minded
not to be swept off their feet. "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy" is still in force. But those who are crazy about automobiles have no more reverence for Sunday than for Tuesday. The truth is we have gone mad over this matter of amusement and a multitude of our people have suffered absolutely to its strange and subtle power. Good roads are built, but it is better to jolt over rocks and plunge into gullies in a one horse-wagon than to glide to the devil over a road as smooth as ribbon
in a luxurious automobile.—Charity and Children.

Death of Mrs. Sarah McDonald.

Mrs. Sarah McDonald, relief of the late W. S. McDonald, died from the effects of a stroke of paralysis at her home in the Stover section of the county, last Wednesday morning. Interment was made in the Hebron graveyard.

Mrs. McDonald was native of the Stover community and was a consecrated member of the Methodist church here, taking a great interest in church affairs. She had many friends throughout the country who mourn her loss.

She is survived by the following sons and daughters: Messrs. W. S.
Andrew, Robert and John McDonald
and Mrs. Martin McDonald and Miss Martha McDonald.

TARIFF TOPIC OF HUGHES IN STEEL DISTRICT TALKS

Thousands of Workmen Hear Republican Nominator Uproar at Steel Plant—Admission Bill and Mexican Policy Attached Again.

Pittsburg, Sept. 27.—Charles E. Hughes went through the big steel-making district of Pittsburg today, addressed thousands of workmen at the Homestead Steel Plant, he declared present conditions of prosperity would not endure in the days when Europe would be at peace unless the United States should adopt a protective tariff. To an audience that jammed the music hall he repeated this statement tonight. In his night address he also dwelt at length upon his views on the Adams bill, the Administration policy toward Mexico, the shipping bill and what he termed extravagant claims made by the Administration for having aided business.

Hughes spoke from a platform upon which were seated Republicans and Progressive leaders who have opposed each other in the State during the past four years. On his way here from Cleveland he was met and escorted to this city by Senators Oliver and Penrose and William Flynn, the latter a former Progressive leader. The night address was a re-union. The breach of recent years has been healed," he said, "and our national aims at this time are conceived to be of such transcendent importance that we know of no difference and are not making any former disagreements to impair unity of effort. We are truly progressive, again progressive, looking forward to the solution of important problems that this new century will place before us."

In his night speech Mr. Hughes again attacked the Administration for the Adams law, the shipping law and the Underwood bill. He left at midnight for Trenton, N. J., where he will speak tomorrow morning and Saratoga Springs, N. Y., where he will deliver an address to the morning night. His voice still showed signs of the strain under which he has been laboring but was measurably improved.

FIVE MILLION SPENT IN YEAR FOR FARMERS.

Former Secretary of Agriculture, Wilson Points Out Good Accomplished by Demonstration Work.

According to James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture in the Cabinet of President McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft, the most important farming development in America at the present time is the agricultural extension work now being carried on among the farmers by the agricultural colleges of the country.

Mr. Wilson is now president of the National Agricultural Society, recently formed by a number of prominent men interested in farming, and he has just completed a survey of the new movement, which he refers to as "sending the college to the farm."

Says Mr. Wilson, "The world has never seen the like of this present educational movement. Every properly equipped educational agency in the country has been set in motion at actual first-hand work among the farmers. In every one of the 48 states the campaign is being pushed vigorously, and I believe that at the present time at least half of the active farming element of the country is either in direct or indirect contact with the movement."

"This year there was spent in farm demonstration alone approximately $5,000,000, and every one of the States shared in its benefits. "A wide range of activity was covered; domestic science was taught to wives of the farmers in their own homes, scientific farm management was demonstrated on thousands of farms, boys and girls were encouraged to form pig, poultry and other clubs, agricultural engineering was taught at many places, better dairying was demonstrated; in a word, direct and practical instruction in scientific agriculture was given to the American farmer in every direction."

When one considers that in addition to this fund of $5,000,000, the Department of Agriculture at Washington spent more than five times that sum during the past year, it will be seen that the United States has gone about the education of the farmer in a most surprising way. In my opinion the world has never seen anything to compare with this movement."

NATIONAL INSURANCE COMMISSIONERS MEET

Richmond, Va., Sept. 27.—Discussion of technical papers occupied the greater part of the two sessions of the forty-seventh annual meeting of the convention of State Insurance Commissioners held today. An automobile trip to points of historical interest took place this afternoon.

There is strong rivalry between several cities for the next meeting. It is probable that a Western city will be selected. A report recommending that the insurance laws of each State be amended to that reports of fire and marine companies be filed not later than February 15, and other companies not earlier than March 1, was adopted.

INFANT BURNED TO DEATH.

Anderson, Sept. 27.—The seven-months old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Darby of Belton was fatally burned by the explosion of gasoline at their home in Belton Monday afternoon, and died Tuesday morning.

Mr. Darby was ironing and used gasoline to heat the iron. The gas line was kept in a tank, and it is not exactly known how the explosion came about, but the blazing fluid covered the baby, and it was fatally burned before the flames were extinguished. Mrs. Darby was also badly burned while trying to save her baby.

HEALTH WAS RESTORED

Had Been in Very Bad Health Over Two Years and Almost Past Going for Four Months

Though he had been almost constantly under treatment for four months, and intermittently during the previous two years, and though he had wasted away until he was hardly more than skin and bones, and could hardly walk because of his weakness, G. G. Anderson, of 300 Whiskey St., yard foreman at Columbia for the Atlantic Coast Line railway, gained 24 pounds on seven bottles of Tanlac and was restored to good health, according to the statement he recently gave to an envoy of the "master medicine." His statement follows:

"I suffered from a greatly run down and weakened condition. I had been in very bad health for several years, and just before I began to take Tanlac I had been continuously under medical treatment for four months. I was told I had nervous indigestion.

"For almost two years I had been so weak I could hardly work. I was just skin and bones. I was in such bad health, and I scarcely ever ate more than a few bites at a meal. I was in bed most of the time. One time, shortly before I began taking Tanlac, I was under treatment continuously for 21 weeks and steadily got worse. I just could not eat, and what little I did force down hurt me and caused me to feel puffed up and gave me a severe pain in my chest. My nerves were very bad, too. Really, I was just about past going at all."

"I had read about Tanlac, and finally I lost heart in the treatment. I was under and began taking Tanlac."

"The relief Tanlac gave me was as follows: I took seven bottles and gained 24 pounds. I picked up right away and did a lot of strength. When the seventh bottle was gone I was really a new man in health and strength. I did not begin to feel much better until I had taken the second bottle of Tanlac, but then went right along in strength and weight. Soon I was eating three big meals a day, so great an improvement did Tanlac make in the condition of my stomach."

"I quit taking Tanlac in May and I feel fine now, and I have been a different man ever since Tanlac built me up."

"I am glad to recommend Tanlac and to give you this endorsement, for it may help others to find a way to regain their health. I sure can recommend Tanlac highly, for I do not know of a better stomach remedy, and I have spent dollars for many kinds of stomach remedies that did me no good."

Tanlac, the master medicine is sold exclusively by Loring's Drug Store, Chester; Lockhart's Mill store, Lockhart; Kennedy Mercantile Co., Lockhart; D. Ferguson, Port Lawn. Price $1 per bottle straight.
